

Sindi Mabaso-Koyana

Brief Profile

2017

Sindi Mabaso-Koyana, is currently the Executive Chairperson of AIH(Pty) Ltd, an Investment Holdings company for The African Women Chartered Accountants. She is also the Non-Executive Chairperson of the Advanced Group of Companies which is invested in Mining Services and Non-Executive Chairperson of MTN Zakhele Futhi. Sindi is a Chartered Accountant by profession with experience in the public and private sector. Her illustrious career has included being Managing Director of Viamax Logistics, Group CFO of Transnet, Executive Partner at Ernst & Young, Chairperson of the Armaments Corporation of South Africa and the Chairperson of the FIFA Audit and Compliance Committee. She has served on a number of boards including Transnet, South African Airways, South African Institute of Chartered Accountants, MTN, SANRAL, Altron Group and a few others. Her current board positions include Adcorp Holdings LTD, Phembani Group and Toyota SA. She is the Founder Member and Former President of African Women Chartered Accountants(AWCA). She now chairs the Advisory Board of AWCA. Sindi is a renowned leader and champion in growth and development of young women. Sindi has been named one of the Top 20 Most Powerful Women in South Africa and was a Finalist for the Business Woman Award of South Africa in 2004. Sindi was, in 2013 nominated by The CEO Magazine's Most Influential Women in Business and Public Sector. She was the Chairperson of the Task team of The South African Institute of Chartered Accountants which launched the paper on Meaningful Reporting on Broad Based Black Economic Empowerment (BBBEE) and is now the Chairperson of the Chartered Accountancy Sector Charter. Sindi is a Fellow of the Aspen Global Leadership Network (African Chapter).