2 DETAILS OF THE APPLICANT, THE ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT PRACTITIONER AND THE DECISION-MAKING AUTHORITY

2.1 Introduction

This section of the Revised Draft EIR Version 2 provides the particulars of the Applicant, the Environmental Assessment Practitioner (EAP) and the relevant decision-making authority.

2.2 Details of the Applicant

The Eskom Conversion Act, 2001 (Act No. 13 of 2001) established Eskom Holdings Limited (Eskom) as a State-Owned Enterprise, with the Government of South Africa as the only shareholder, represented by the Minister of Public Enterprises. According to the Memorandum of Association required by the Eskom Conversion Act and the Companies Act, 1973 (Act No. 61 of 1973), Eskom's main objective is to "provide energy and related services including the generation, transmission, distribution and supply of electricity, and to hold interests in other entities."

Eskom is regulated under licences granted by inter alia the National Electricity Regulator of South Africa (NERSA) and the National Nuclear Regulator (NNR) (Eskom 2007). Eskom is a vertically integrated operation that generates, transmits and distributes electricity. Eskom generates approximately 95 % of the electricity used in South Africa.

The details of Eskom's representative for this project are in Table 2-1 below.

2.3 Details of the Environmental Assessment Practitioner

GIBB is an integrated group of professional scientists, project managers and engineers providing cost-effective solutions and specialist services within a wide range of disciplines. The multi-disciplinary consulting, management and design approach allows for the development of projects in a holistic manner, as this is believed to be the best environment to fully meet the needs of our clients.

Specific to environmental management GIBB has a team of specialists comprising environmental scientists and environmental engineers that form a national environmental team. These specialists have broad experience of working on a range of environmental projects within the public and private sector. The Environmental Services Division has a formidable track record and exemplary reputation in southern Africa. The Division comprises a number of highly qualified and experienced technical staff with over 450 years of combined consulting experience.

The Environmental Services Division is based throughout South Africa. The team has been purposely set up to mobilise and co-ordinate any given range of environmental services wherever these may be geographically required.

The details of the Senior Environmental Assessment Practitioner for the proposed development are listed Table 2-2 below.
