Dear Basetsana

Please clarify the following:

- 1) The notice received on 12.11.2019 indicates a meeting date of 2018 and the comments period is also noted to close in November 2018?
 - a. Firstly this is presumed to be incorrect.
 - b. Secondly, at least 2 weeks is the prescribed minimum notice period.
 - c. The date is thus unacceptable – please reschedule with a reasonable time-frame allowed.
- 2) Secondly, Kendal Poultry Farm is noted as an I&AP with Eskom.
 - a. I do not see them invited on this list, yet they are located in between Kusile and Kendal Power Stations, I cannot see how they are not included in your list of potential I&APs?
 - b. Please add them on the list of I&APs and include them accordingly.

Good Day Dr. Meyer

Please note that Basi is currently not in the office, attending to an emergency till further notice. I will be acting in her place in the meantime.

Kendal Poultry Farm have been consulted and they are satisfied with the manner in which they were consulted. I think it is only fair that you allow them to make the call for themselves.

Regarding the public meeting, if you are not available to attend, that is understandable, not everyone can be available at the same time. There are other options to comment on the draft report. The meeting will proceed as scheduled.

Dear Basi

Thank you for the response, however, please note the following:

- 1) Kendal Poultry Farm is on the Eskom data base already, not only as an I&AP, but also as an Appellant.
 - a. It is thus unacceptable not to have them included in community stakeholder engagement.
- 2) Secondly, they are a key commercial agricultural entity within close proximity to Kendal PS.
 - a. How they were not consulted is thus unclear, as it is reasonable to have expected this.
- 3) Irrespective of this, the date communicated, however, still falls out of the required 2 week minimum notice period.
 - a. Your communication thus fails to comply with the required time-frames for all those to whom it was sent.
 - b. I cannot be there next week due to prior engagements and thus expect a re-scheduling or repeat the week after.

James

Subject: Eskom's Feedback - Ward Councilor Meeting

Flag Status: Flagged

Good morning Councilors

The following information is the feedback from Eskom with regards to the issues raised during the meeting that took place on Friday the 1st of November 2019.

1. How will the project benefit the community – job creation and business opportunities?

It has to be noted that the current Kendal ash exemption extension project does not have any new jobs and/or business opportunities, as no new structures or construction is required. The application is for the station to be able to continue with its usually ashing processes/operations while constructing the other portion of the Ash Disposal Facility (ADF).

The Kendal Ash Disposal Facility (ADF) is A different project, separate to that of exemption extension (the current project under public review period until 30 November 2019) which is due for construction. There is 30% subcontracting and Kendal will encourage the successful tenderer to give a portion of subcontracting to local businesses that have the capability and capacity to execute the work.

With regards to Skills development, the ADF project has various skills available/open to be developed.

2. It is difficult to get a vendor number Eskom? What is the process of registering a vendor?

According to the procurement procedure, a business is not required to have a vendor number prior tendering. A vendor number is registered to successfully awarded tenders/supplier/contractor who met the tender requirements of such tender. Please see the clause below

16.1.1 Supplier Administration and Management

Supplier registration in Eskom is informed by legislation, such as NT instruction note 4A of 2016/2017, B-BBEE codes of good practice and master data management principles. All prospective suppliers must be register on the CSD. As soon as the procurement process is completed, a supplier who has been successful in a tender process but not registered on the Eskom's Data Base will be registered.

3. Stakeholder Meeting – for addressing local employment and procurement issues

Kendal power station has a stakeholder meeting this week, Friday at Kopanong Hall from 08:00 – 10:00

Each structure/ forum needs to bring a letter from their recognized structures.

Only two representatives from each recognized structure are allowed and no individual representation is permitted.

Kind regards

Good Morning Nadia

Apologies for the delayed response.

The statement mentioned within your previous email is still the case. The proposed amendment is for the extension of the authorised time period stipulated within the Exemption Authorisation granted to Eskom. The proposed project will not affect the current footprint of the ADF.

I have attached the draft Amendment Motivation Report and appendix A-B. The other appendices will follow as the files are too large to be sent within one email.

Dear Sir,

Further to my correspondence below Zitholele Consulting confirmed in January 2019 that no physical footprint disturbance of Afgri's property will occur as a result of the proposed liner amendment. Furthermore they confirmed that the modelled pollution plume will not migrate anywhere near Afgri's silos and property located along the R555 more than 2.5 km away from the existing ADF footprint area.

Kindly confirm if this will still be the case.

Subject: RE: Public Participation Process: Draft Report - Amendment of An Exemption Authorisation For Ash Disposal Facility at Kendal Power Station, Mpumalanga

Dear Basi

Thank you for the response, however, please note the following:

1. Kendal Poultry Farm is on the Eskom data base already, not only as an I&AP, but also as an Appellant.
 - a. It is thus unacceptable not to have them included in community stakeholder engagement.
2. Secondly, they are a key commercial agricultural entity within close proximity to Kendal PS.
 - a. How they were not consulted is thus unclear, as it is reasonable to have expected this.
3. Irrespective of this, the date communicated, however, still falls out of the required 2 week minimum notice period.
 - a. Your communication thus fails to comply with the required time-frames for all those to whom it was sent.
 - b. I cannot be there next week due to prior engagements and thus expect a re-scheduling or repeat the week after.

Dear Basetsana

Please clarify the following:

1. The notice received on 12.11.2019 indicates a meeting date of 2018 and the comments period is also noted to close in November 2018?
 - a. Firstly this is presumed to be incorrect.
 - b. Secondly, at least 2 weeks is the prescribed minimum notice period.
 - c. The date is thus unacceptable – please reschedule with a reasonable time-frame allowed.
2. Secondly, Kendal Poultry Farm is noted as an I&AP with Eskom.
 - a. I do not see them invited on this list, yet they are located in between Kusile and Kendal Power Stations, I cannot see how they are not included in your list of potential I&APs?
 - b. Please add them on the list of I&APs and include them accordingly.

Fairacres Products (Pty) Ltd

1.2.2. The following is pointed out to Green Gold Group:

1.2.2.1. In order to give effect to the legislated intention of constructive community (public) stakeholder engagement a reasonable timeframe for meetings should be provided.

1.2.2.1.1. The date provided of 19.11.2019 did not fall within a two-week period and was at unreasonably short notice.

1.2.2.2. The Invitation Letter received notes that comments must be submitted by 16:00 on 30 November 2019, yet the notice is dated 12/11/2019.

1.2.2.3. It is brought to the attention of Green Gold Group that legally, in terms of NEMA, a commenting period cannot end on a Saturday and has to be extended to the next Monday.

1.2.2.3.1. This would be the correct date even if the notice was received on 01.11.2019

1.2.2.4. Furthermore, the commenting period should actually be in the second week in December 2019, as the documentation and invite letter were only received on 12.11.2019.

1.3. Irrespective, the comments to the Draft report received are provided on 02.12.2019 in this document.

1.4. It is furthermore pointed out that the correspondence contains several errors (as noted in the email correspondence copied above) including the provision by Green Gold Group of the incorrect email address to which comment were requested to be sent as demonstrated in the email details provided for in the text by B Motha on 01.11.2019:

Regards,

2. Perspective

2.1. Kendal Poultry Farm is located between the Kusile and Kendal Power Stations – refer to the following image:

2.2. These power stations both belong to Eskom Holdings Limited.

2.2.1. It is pointed out that Kendal Poultry Farm is listed as an appellant with special consideration and conditions provided in the EA granted for the Kusile Power Station (Ref: 12/12/20/807) to which Eskom as a company is bound to ensure no adverse effects occur to the chickens at Kendal Poultry Farm due to the activities of Eskom.

2.2.2. Kendal Poultry Farm has during numerous consultations with Eskom noted that the primary concern for effects from Eskom operated power stations relate to the Hazardous Air Pollutants (HAPS) that were commonly cited in the scientific literature linked to coal-fired power stations and the related activities.

2.2.3. It is noteworthy that the “Reasons for the Decision” provided by the competent authority in the awarding of the EA for Kusile Power Station to Eskom state that:

2.2.3.1. “The potential impacts on human and animal health from the ash dump can be mitigated to acceptable levels through the conditions set by the authorization and other measures, but that additional measures must be put in place to ensure adequate monitoring of air quality. I have also taken note in my analysis of the information before me that the proposed power station will be located within the newly proclaimed Highveld Priority Area.” (4.3 (d) of the RoD).

- 2.2.3.2. This EA was dated 17 March 2008.
 - 2.2.3.3. It is now a matter of public record that Eskom has failed to implement the Minimum Emission Standards as required and has persistently sought extensions and/or exemptions from compliance in this regard.
 - 2.2.3.4. Eskom has also communicated to the public that it has been unable to meet the Air Emissions Licence conditions on numerous occasions at Kendal and Kusile Power Stations, with Kendal in particular problematic as required maintenance is not being effected due to the requirement to continue with generations to stabilise the National Grid (Eskom responses in press and at the Kusile Power Station Environmental Monitoring Committee).
 - 2.2.3.5. Eskom has acknowledged that Kendal Power Station is emitting both excessive amounts of ash due to the ash handling system being broken and high particulate emissions due to problems with the dust handling plant and electrostatic precipitators.
 - 2.2.3.6. It is consequently a matter of public record that a court case has been lodged by Greenpeace Africa to oppose Eskom’s applications for postponements and suspensions from complying with South Africa’s Minimum Emission Standards.
- 2.3. Failings at Kusile Power Station to comply with the licenced limits are numerous and on-going, including a failure to comply with the zero-discharge condition resulting in discharge of pollution control dam wastewater directly into a wetland.
 - 2.4. It follows that Kendal Poultry Farm has not been afforded the protection anticipated in the EA granted for Kusile and that Kendal Power Station has also failed to comply with the minimum standards required.
 - 2.5. Given that standard hazard and assessment methodology requires cumulative factors and site-specific settings to be included in the assessment, it follows that any assessment of impact to the I&APs should include the recognition of total impact emanating from Eskom’s activities and not merely confine the assessment to a single component.

3. Comments to Draft Report:

3.1. The Draft Report presents with the following key concerning admissions and request:

3.1.1. Firstly, Eskom has failed to comply with the EAs 14/12/16/3/3/3/63 and 14/12/16/3/3/3/63AMi.

3.1.2. Secondly, Eskom has failed to provide the required lining and appears to be of the opinion that simply as the exempted area has not been ashed to full capacity, the time period should be extended to permit this.

3.1.3. Thirdly, the report notes that the exemption applied for “may result in significant impacts to the environment.”

3.1.4. Fourthly, the use of the term “procurement issues” seems to be a frequent excuse offered by Eskom to explain non-compliance (refer to Kusile EMC minutes). Failure by Eskom to manage its finances appropriately has been acknowledged by Eskom publically, but in no way does this justify the failure to implement conditions held in authorisations.

3.2. Specialist comments:

3.2.1. It is noteworthy that Table 6 does not include an air-dispersion pathway as a potential hazard or risk.

3.2.1.1. This is entirely inadequate given the admissions referred to in Point 2 above in which Eskom has noted failures in air quality and emissions pathway mitigation and management measures. It cannot reasonably be assumed in the exemption sought that continued ash disposal in any area, irrespective of the lining used or not used, will not be relevant in an assessment for an EA extension.

3.2.2. Surface water:

3.2.2.1. It is unclear as to why it is only recommended that Kendal Power Station “may” need to collaborate with “upstream users”.

3.2.2.2. This is at odds with section 8 of the report which notes downstream users as potentially adversely impacted upon (refer to Disadvantages section).

3.2.2.2.1. It is held that downstream areas and water users are more at risk and should be the priority focus receptor.

3.2.3. Specialist reports:

3.2.3.1. The E1 (Groundwater report) and E2 (surface water report) appendices refer:

3.2.3.1.1. It is clear that the monitoring conducted fails to include the key priority pollutants linked to coal-fired power stations and their related activities.

3.2.3.1.2. Whilst a few analytical reports are provided in the appendix in which some of these are included, for example, cadmium, chromium, lead, mercury and strontium, but these are dated 2013 (E1 report).

3.2.3.1.3. Bromide, a key priority contaminant of emerging concern, is omitted from the data provided.

3.2.3.1.4. Failure to adequately monitor and describe the contaminants related to the source activities effectively precludes the specialist report from assessing the hazards and risks posed, and thus fails to address the potential impacts.

3.2.3.1.5. It is unclear as to why Golder Associates would omit these constituents from the assessment when it is part of Water Research Commission Projects which have highlighted the requirements for a full inorganic ICP-MS to be included in assessments for fitness for use for water uses due to the recognition of the potential EDC and other adverse effects.

3.2.3.2. It is again noted that no specialist report is provided which details the air-dispersion pathway which precludes an assessment from being made.

3.2.3.3. The reports are accordingly rejected as they fail to adequately assess the known potentially hazardous chemical constituents linked to the ash dump.

3.3. The requirement for adequate lining and other Eskom requests for a declassification of the liner system (for the current co-disposal facility and the planned 60 year Ash Disposal Facility at Kusile Power Station) refer and are indicative of the failure of Eskom to adequately describe and manage the hazards and risks documented elsewhere.

3.4. The extension sought is objected to on the following grounds:

3.4.1. Monitoring data:

3.4.1.1. The specialist assessments do not include the key potentially hazardous constituents related to the ADF and thus fail to assess potential source, pathway and receptor events. The “risk rating” thus arrived at is inherently superficial and thus fatally flawed.

3.4.1.2. Composition:

3.4.1.2.1. Comprehensive analytical descriptions of the waste to be disposed of are not provided. Whilst it is recognized that the waste is to consist of fly ash and coarse ash from coal burning operations, literature on the composition thereof notes potential pollutants to be present with coal quality and coal-burning processes to be varied requiring analytical determination to be conducted. Consequently this raises concerns that the report not only fails to inform the I&APs of the hazardous pollutants relevant for the consideration of impacts and proposed amendment sought, but fails to note that the basic baseline description will be conducted. It is reasonable to expect that internationally published Hazardous Air Pollutants and environmental hazardous chemicals associated with fly ash and coarse ash to be included and described as part of the report and specifically noted as a specialist study to be conducted.

3.4.1.3. Pollutant Pathway – Air:

3.4.1.3.1. It is widely reported in the literature that trace elements may be captured by fly ash and coarse ash with consequent significant environmental concerns as many are reported to be carcinogenic, toxic and potential endocrine disruptors. It is noted that whilst these are noted as hazardous air pollutants many may occur in ash and may thus impact water resources via an air-dispersion pathway and a leachate and runoff pathway.

3.4.1.3.2. This aspect needs to be addressed more fully and comprehensively and clearly noted in the specialist studies including:

3.4.1.3.2.1. National Ambient Air Quality Standards are established (NEM: Act 34 of 2004), with Ambient air quality measurement requirements stating that the assessment of all ambient pollutant concentrations shall be conducted in terms of the relevant sections of the National Framework for Air Quality Management. Section 3 on National Ambient Air Quality Standards addresses SO₂, NO₂, Particulate matter, ozone, benzene, lead and carbon monoxide but monitoring needs to include a comprehensive list of potentially hazardous constituents related to coal, combustion thereof, storage of combustion products and related activities, including transport of both coal and combustion products. Additional key elements include:

3.4.1.3.2.1.1. trace elements captured by fly ash and coarse ash with consequent significant environmental concerns as many are reported to be carcinogenic, toxic and potential endocrine disruptors.

3.4.1.3.2.1.2. The key carcinogenic elements most frequently cited include arsenic, cadmium, nickel and zinc, whilst toxicity concerns are most often reported for selenium and mercury.

3.4.1.3.2.1.3. Potentially hazardous trace elements associated with fly ash include:

3.4.1.3.2.1.3.1. Arsenic; Aluminium; Antimony; Barium; Beryllium; Bromide; Cobalt; Chromium; Copper; Iron; Lanthanum; Lead; Manganese; Mercury; Molybdenum; Nickel; Selenium; Silicon; Strontium; Tungsten; Uranium; Vanadium.

3.4.1.3.2.1.3.2. Macro elements include Fluoride, Sulphur and Nitrogen. Other potential hazards include PAHs and VOCs.

3.4.1.4. Failure to adequately comply with the applicable legislation:

3.4.1.4.1. The waste classification must be conducted comprehensively in accordance with the GN 635 of 23 August 2013 wherein it is noted that:

3.4.1.4.1.1. 4 (1) TC of all the elements...that are known to occur, likely to occur, or can reasonably be expected to occur in the waste must be determined;

3.4.1.4.1.2. (2) methods that will provide reliable, accurate and repeatable results for the Total Concentration.

3.4.1.4.2. This must be used for multiple ash and leachate samples that adequately describe the variation of the waste applicable and re-assess the lining system and waste handling methods required.

3.4.2. The extension sought is objected to for the following reasons:

3.4.2.1. Eskom cannot simply fail to comply with existing authorization conditions and then seek extensions on an on-going basis.

3.4.2.2. The precedent appears to have been set with the persistence of Eskom to not comply with other environmental legislation, including the Minimum Emission Standards.

3.5. As a summary statement, the reasons sought for the extension are unacceptable and the specialist studies fail to adequately describe the hazards and risks posed both currently and in the future and should include an air-quality specialist report detailing the required source, pathway and receptor hazards including the appropriate analytical compositional data.

4. General

- 4.1. The Draft Report fails to provide meaningful information and required analytical data on the waste to be disposed of and in the environmental media applicable.
- 4.2. The impression is gained that the extension sought is entirely in the interests of Eskom cutting costs as opposed to fulfilling their duty of care and requirement to not adversely impact the environment.
- 4.3. It is requested that the outstanding information sought be provided to Kendal Poultry Farm and other I&APs before the application is submitted to the authorities.
- 4.4. Outcomes of the PPM to which Kendal Poultry Farm could not attend due to the unreasonably short notice period are requested to be forwarded to Kendal Poultry Farm.

Thank you for the response, however, please note the following:

1. Kendal Poultry Farm is on the Eskom data base already, not only as an I&AP, but also as an Appellant.
 - a. It is thus unacceptable not to have them included in community stakeholder engagement.
2. Secondly, they are a key commercial agricultural entity within close proximity to Kendal PS.
 - a. How they were not consulted is thus unclear, as it is reasonable to have expected this.
3. Irrespective of this, the date communicated, however, still falls out of the required 2 week minimum notice period.

Dear Lebohang

Mr J Byrne and I will be available at 09:00 on 11 December at Woodsprings Breeder Farm to meet and discuss the concerns.

This is the only time we have availability for.

For biosecurity purposes, please ensure that representatives are poultry-farm-contact-free for 72 hours prior to the meeting.
(thus not been on another poultry farm or had contact with poultry for 72 hours).

The farm is located on the R545 just opposite the east gate entrance to Kusile – I attach a map.

Re: Request for monitoring data for Kendal ADF Exemption Amendment

DEA REF: 14/12/16/3/3/3/53AM1

The meeting held at Woodsprings Breeder Farm on 11.12.2019 refers.

- 1) It was requested that Kendal Poultry Farm provide the EAP with guidance on the data required and monitoring requested in order for Kendal Poultry Farm to be in a position to proactively manage the potential hazardous emanating from the activities at Kendal Power Station.
- 2) The requested data was described in the comments submitted to Green Gold Group (Pty) Ltd on 02.12.2019 and are recognized in local and international literature as being potential hazards applicable and are being monitored by the Kusile Power Station in accordance with the conditions set in the RoD issued to Eskom Holdings with Kendal Poultry Farm as the listed Appellant.
- 3) The ICP-MS results requested are provided below and it should be noted that these are being monitored in various media (surface and groundwater, poultry tissues and dust fallout samples) by the Kusile Power Station in line with the EMC ToR.
 - a. This will allow for continuity between the data sets compiled and the ability of Kendal Poultry Farm to proactively assess and manage risks that may arise.
 - b. The dust bucket for Kendal Power Station is suggested to be placed at the southern section of Kendal Poultry Farm (northern aspect would be linked to Kusile).
- 4) The additional tests noted are presumed to be compiled on a routine basis by Kendal Power Station.
- 5) The key test requested pertains to the placement of Dust Fallout collection buckets and analytical determination of the composition as discussed.

- a. It is noted that Gijima currently performs these for the Kusile Power Station and it is preferred that this continue as they have a working procedure for the dust bucket design, placement and routine sampling and analysis.
 - i. The contact is Mr J Pieterse:
 - 1. Jaco.Pieterse@Gijima.com
- b. The tests are currently performed at the Pelindaba Analytical Laboratory at NECSA.
 - i. The contact is Mr D Hudson-Lamb:
 - 1. Dave.HudsonLamb@necsa.co.za
- c. Please refer to Appendix 1 for a copy of the methods and the FOD Report provided along with this email as an example of the reports generated.
- d. The tests are conducted on a monthly collection and thus reporting basis.
- e. The Dust Fallout Samples would be obtained at Kendal Poultry Farm and as per the current reports include:
 - i. ICP-MS (insoluble and soluble fractions as currently conducted and reported to the EMC)
 - ii. Fluoride
 - iii. Bromide as a critical element
 - iv. Dust Fallout rate
- f. The placement of the dust collection bucket requested is noted below although it would be recommended that Gijima guide Kendal Power Station as to the placement of a dust collection bucket at the ADF at Kendal Power Station between the line of potential dispersion from the ADF to Kendal Poultry Farm:

- 6) The second key test is the analytical determination of the elements in the table below in both:
- a. Ash dump samples (fly ash, coarse ash and/or collective)
 - b. Groundwater
 - c. Surface water

Analytical Procedure	Analytical Determination
Inorganic Constituent Assessment	Cations: Fluoride; Nitrite; Nitrate; Chloride; Sulphate; Phosphate; Carbonate; Bicarbonate Anions: Sodium; Potassium; Calcium; Magnesium Total Dissolved Solids; pH; SAR; Na Carbonate; Na Bicarbonate; Alkalinity; Temporary Hardness; Permanent Hardness. ICP-MS: (sample container must be acidified) Al, Sb; As; Be; B; Ba; Be; Br; Cs; Cd; Cr; Co, Cu; Fe; Pb; Li; La; Mn; Mo; Hg; Ni; Sr; Ag; Se; Sn; Si; Ti; Te; Tl; U; V; W; Zn.

- 7) It is presumed that the following is routinely monitored by Kendal Power Station and it would be reasonably expected to be provided to Kendal Poultry Farm (as similar data is provided by Kusile Power Station):

Standard Monitoring of emissions:

- a. Acid Gases (Hydrogen Fluoride & Hydrogen Chloride)
- b. Dioxins and Furans (TCDD)
- c. Methylmercury
- d. Non-mercury metals and metalloids:
 - i. Arsenic

- ii. Beryllium
- iii. Bromide
- iv. Cadmium
- v. Chromium
- vi. Cobalt
- vii. Nickel
- viii. Selenium
- ix. Manganese
- x. Lead
- e. Poly aromatic hydrocarbons
- f. Radioisotopes
 - i. Radium
 - ii. Uranium
- g. Volatile Organic Compounds

8) A summary of that which is routinely monitored by Kendal Poultry Farm in water and soil includes:

- a. Water sampling (resource quality of boreholes)
 - i. Macro elements
 - ii. Trace elements (ICP-MS)
 - iii. Microbiological Indicator Organisms.
 - 1. Total Bacteria Count (c/ml)
 - 2. Total Coliform Count (c/100 ml)
 - 3. Faecal Coliforms (c/100 ml)
 - 4. E. coli (c/100 ml)
 - iv. Physico-chemistry
 - 1. Suspended solids
 - 2. Chemical Oxygen Demand
 - 3. Surfactants
 - 4. Ammonia

9) The summary of that thus performed by Kendal Power Station would include:

- a. Dust Fallout Samples at Kendal Poultry Farm on a monthly basis:
 - i. ICP-MS (insoluble and soluble fractions)
 - ii. Fluoride
 - iii. Dust Fallout rate
- b. Standard Air Quality emissions (as per Kendal Emissions Licence)

10)The laboratory and service provider noted are not descriptive, but as noted earlier it may be prudent to engage with the same provider Gijima and laboratory (PAL at NECSA) to maintain continuity in data generated between the Eskom power stations.

11)Please contact Dr J Meyer (jmeyerc@mweb.co.za) if there are any queries or suggestions.

Appendix 1:

Methods: As per the current Kusile Power Station EMC Dust-fallout monitoring conducted by Gijima: Occupational Hygiene and Occupational Services

Equipment and procedure:

Dust Watch single bucket fall-out dust sampling units were used to collect fall-out dust (> 30µm to < 100 µm) samples from the ambient environment. Each sampler consists of the following items:

- 5 litre plastic bucket (with lid)
- Distilled water (± 4l) inside bucket
- Bucket container
- Windshield for bucket container
- Collapsible supporting stand of approximately 2 metres in height
- Safety pin
- Stand base secured with rocks or bricks on the ground

Sampling was performed over a period of approximately 30 ±2 days.

Sample Analysis: Samples were analysed by Necsa's Pelindaba Analytical Laboratory using the ICP-MS analytical technique.

Filters:

- 100% Cotton Fibre Filters
- Ø 150 mm
- 10-micron pore size
- low ash, fast filtration filter paper

Sample preparation:

The water was sieved through a 1mm Stainless Steel screen to remove large particles and insects and then filtered through preweighed filters. The filters were dried in a drying oven and reweighed. The filtered samples (water) were contained in bottles with tight sealing screw caps.

Gravimetric Analysis:

The gravimetric weighing technique was used to determine the total dust concentration of samples. Gravimetric weighing was performed by means of an electronic balance scale, which indicates numerical values up to the fifth decimal of a gram.

A valid calibration certificate is available on request.

Chemical Analysis:

Dust fall out samples including the dissolved and undissolved trace element content were treated in the following manner. The filtrate from the dust fall out samples was collected and the volume thereof recorded, the collected filtrate was then filtered and diluted tenfold with diluted nitric acid/ gold solution and analysed on the Agilent 7700 ICP-MS.

The collected dust was dried at 105 °C for 2 hrs and the mass thereof determined as outlined in ASTM D1739, the ignited mass of the dust was not determined as further analysis on the dust was required.

The whole filter paper containing the dried dust was then digested in a sealed falcon tube at 90°C with aqua regia for 2hrs.

The digested sample was then filtered and diluted tenfold with diluted nitric acid/ gold solution before measuring on the ICPMS.

The analytical method and instrument performance capabilities have been validated in house. (PAL validation report: NLSVAL-0150)
