Counter petitions over proposal to relocate Blaauwberg sub-council from Milnerton to Atlantis

PETER LUHANGA

A Table View resident's online petition against the proposal to create a sub-council in Atlantis, sent shivers through the Atlantis Business Chamber (ABC), which views the proposal as a good initiative for Atlantis economic growth, thus prompting them to move quickly to counter the petition.

The City of Cape Town's proposal to cluster wards and create new sub-council boundaries, has sparked petitions, for and against the proposals.

Table View resident Leon Alhadeff launched an online petition against the proposal on change.org, with the petition subject, stating "lets stop the reduction of influence we actually do have within the City of Cape Town".

Alhadeff petition had gathered 874 signatures while the Atlantis petition supporting the proposal, championed by the ABC gathered 1000 signatures.

The City proposes to separate Table View and Milnerton so as to fall under a new sub-council proposed to be established in Atlantis and the other in Parow.

Mayoral Committee Member for Corporate Services, Xanthea Limberg told Isolabantu that the public participation period commenced on Thursday, September 22, and closed on Wednesday, October 12.

Limberg said in addition to the public consultation process, the City was also consulting the municipal demarcations board.

"Once all comment and input is received from these stakeholders, the multi-party committee will consider all of the input and recommended amendments to sub-council boundaries and then recommend the changes. The item will be tabled for decision at the October Council meeting," said Limberg.

Member of the Atlantis Business Chamber, Ashley Poole said Table View residents were causing a split with their online petition against the proposal.

"If the sub-council is established in Atlantis, financial benefits will be pumped into Atlantis. All Atlantis residents and organisations will participate in decision making," said Poole, adding "These people in affluent suburbs opposing the proposal to establish a sub-council in Atlantis are undermining our level of integrity in decision making. Our time has arrived and has arrived now."

Chairman of the chamber Michael Marote said they supported the City of Cape Town's proposal to shift the sub-council from Milnerton to Atlantis.

"It will be easier to conduct business in Atlantis. As businesses we are preparing ourselves in anticipation (of ripening fruits) from the economical growth that's coming to Atlantis," said Marote.

Alhadeff petition states that the proposal to shift Blaauwberg sub-council known as sub-council 1 to Atlantis and Parow, will reduce Table View residents's collective support and influence and will not serve the interests of the greater Table View area.

"In its current format these wards represent 50% of interest and influence within sub-council 1. This proposed amendment will see residents' combined interests and influence reduced significantly to less than 20% - if the proposed new sub-councils amendment is effectively enacted," stated the petition.

Approached for clarity on his petition, Alhadeff said he was aware of the counter petition set up by the Atlantis Business Chamber.

He was quick to dismiss allegations that the petition was racially motivated saying he fully supported the growth of Atlantis and that a sub-council was certainly something needed to be established there.

He said he is against the splitting of wards in Blaauberg and Milnerton.

"There is no way the City can justify the splitting. Half of the Blaauwberg sub-council will sit in Atlantis, the other in Parow, with two different priorities which will affect service delivery progress," he said.

He also distanced his petition from the Table View Rate Payers Association saying he is an ordinary rate payer and had brought the problems associated to the splitting of the wards to the attention of Table View residents who supported it.

Limberg said the first proposal suggests the following: sub-council 1, wards 23, 29, 32, 104.

She said sub-council 1 is made up of the two Atlantis wards, small holdings, and Melkbosstrand.

"Atlantis needs a sub-council as this community has been serviced from Milnerton. Large developments are planned for the area in the future, such as the Special Economic Zone (SEZ). This will see the increase in size of an integrated community that will include industrial areas and farmland," she said.
