PUBLIC PARTICIPATION PROCESS

PROPOSED EXPANSION OF THE DIESEL STORAGE FACILITIES AT THE KOEBERG NUCLEAR POWER STATION, FARM DUYNFONTYN NO. 1552, MELKBOSSTRAND

Notice is hereby given of a Public Participation Process in terms of the National Environmental Management Act, 1998 (Act No. 107 of 1998) (NEMA), as amended, and the Environmental Impact Assessment Regulations, 2014.

Proposal and location: the proposed expansion of the diesel storage facilities at the Koeberg Nuclear Power Station (KNPS) by installing two mobile above ground diesel tanks on the Farm Duynfontyn No. 1552, Melkbosstrand. The primary purpose of the diesel fuel tanks is to provide a diversified and separate, additional source of diesel fuel during an extended loss of Alternating Current (AC) power following an emergency, to supply:

1. the emergency mobile diesel powered water pumps which will be used to provide reactor core cooling and nuclear spent fuel pool make-up; and
2. the Emergency Control Centre (ECC) diesel generator which will allow the ECC to perform its command and control function.

The storage strategy is to have one diesel tank permanently positioned at the Ekhaya site (Alternative 1 – Preferred Alternative) or at the Transport Garage (Alternative 2), and the second diesel tank located at the Bulk Stores, which is at the Portable Emergency Equipment Store site.

Applicant: Eskom Holdings SOC Limited

Environmental authorization is required in terms of NEMA for the following listed activities: Government Notice: R983 (Listing Notice 1): Activity 51: The expansion of facilities or infrastructure for the storage, or storage and handling of a dangerous good, where the capacity of such storage facilities will be expanded by more than 80 cubic metres. The procedures for a Basic Assessment Process are being followed.

Availability of the Basic Assessment Report (BAR): the Draft BAR will be available for public comment from Friday, 24 February 2017 – Monday, 27 March 2017 at the Koeberg Public Library (Merchant Walk, Duynfontein); Wesfleur Public Library (Arnold Centre, Bunting Crescent, Atlantis); Cape Town Central Library (Old Drill Hall, Corner of Parade and Darling Street, Cape Town); Koeberg Visitors Centre; and Doug Jeffery Environmental Consultants' office in Klapmuts. ## PUBLIEKE DEELNAMEPROSES

DIE VOORGESTELDE UITBREIDING VAN DIE DIESEL BERGINGSFASILITEITE BY DIE KOEBERG KERNKRAGSTASIE, PLAAS DUYNFONTYN NR. 1552, MELKBOSSTRAND

Kennis word hiermee gegee van 'n publieke deelnameproses kragtens die Wet op Nasionale Omgewingsbestuur, 1998 (Wet 107 van 1998) ("NEMA"), soos gewysig, Omgewingsinvloedbepalingsregulasies, 2014.

Voorstel en ligging: die voorgestelde uitbreiding van die diesel bergingsfasiliteite by die Koeberg Kernkragstasie (KKKS) deur die daarstelling van twee mobiele bogrondse dieseltenks, geleë op die plaas Duynfontyn Nr. 1552, Melkbosstrand. Die primêre doel van die dieseltenks is om 'n gediversifiseerde en afsonderlike, addisionele bron van diesel te wees tydens 'n langdurige verlies van wisselstroom elektrisiteit as gevolg van 'n eksterne gebeurtenis, om sodoende dieselbrandstof te kan voorsien aan:

1. die mobiele dieselaangedrewe noodwaterpompe wat gebruik sal word om die reaktorkern en die tenk vir berging van gebruikte kernbrandstof te verkoel; en
2. die kragopwekker wat Noodbeheersentrum (NBS) bedien sodat die NBS die nodige funksies kan verrig.

Die bergingstrategie behels die permanente plasing van een dieseltenk óf by die Ekhaya-werf (Opsie 1) óf by die Vervoerbestuurmagasyn (Opsie 2), en 'n tweede dieseltenk by die Massamagasyn, wat by die werf vir die berging van mobiele noodtoerusting geleë is.

Aansoeker: Eskom Holdings SOC Limited

Ingevolge "NEMA" word omgewingsmagtiging vir die volgende gespesifiseerde aktiwiteite vereis: Staatskennisgewing R983 (Gelyste Kennisgewing 1): Aktiwiteit 51: die uitbreiding van fasiliteite of infrastruktuur vir die berging, of berging en hantering van gevaarlike goedere, waar die kapasiteit van die industrie leiers bergingsfasiliteite sal uitgebrei word om meer as 80 kubieke meter. Die prosedure vir 'n Basiese Invloedbepaling-proses word gevolg.

Beskikbaarheid van die Konsep Basiese Invloedbepalingsverslag (BIV): die Konsep BIV sal vir kommentaar aan die publiek beskikbaar gestel word vanaf Vrydag, 24 Februarie 2017 – Maandag, 27 Maart 2017 by die volgende lokale: die Koeberg Openbare Biblioteek (Merchant Walk, Duynfontein), die Wesfleur Openbare Biblioteek (Arnold Sentrum, Bunting-singel, Atlantis), Kaapstad Sentrale Biblioteek (Ou Drilsaal op die hoek van Parade en Darlingstraat, Kaapstad), die Koeberg Besoekersentrum, en by die kantoor van Doug Jeffery Environmental Consultants in Klapmuts. Die Konsep BIV sal ook op hierdie maatskappy se webwerf (www.dougjeff.co.za) beskikbaar wees.

Geleentheid om deelname: belanghebbende en geaffekteerde partye (B&GPe) word genooi om as 'n B&GP te registreer en/of om kommentaar op die voorstel te lewer. Om te registreer of kommentaar te kan lewer moet B&GPe hul name en kontakbesonderhede (posadres, asook voorkeur-kommunikasiemetode, byvoorbeeld e-pos, faks, geregistreerde pos, gewone pos) verskaf en moet hulle ook aandui watter direkte sake, finansiële, persoonlike, of ander belang hulle in hierdie aansoek het. HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION WORRIED

Group's desperate warning

African News Agency

THE South African Human Rights Commission (SAHRC) said yesterday that it had communicated its deep concern to the government regarding media reports of escalating violence directed at foreign nationals and destruction of their property in Johannesburg and Pretoria.

The commission said it "further notes" media reports of a march against foreign nationals, planned to take place in central Pretoria today.

"The concern of the commission is heightened by information received that electronic communications via SMS and WhatsApp, that could be construed as incitements to violence and/or violent confrontations, are being circulated in relation to the march," said the SAHRC in a statement.

The commission said it has a constitutional mandate as set out in Section 184 of the constitution to, among other duties, monitor and assess the observance of human rights in South Africa.

The South African Human Rights Commission Act, 40 of 2013 provides the powers necessary to perform its mandate, including the powers to, among other things, investigate allegations of human rights violations, mediate or conciliate, and where appropriate, to litigate.

The commission said it had written to the offices of the Gauteng community safety MEC, mayors of Johannesburg and Tshwane; the Gauteng commissioner of Police and the premier of Gauteng requesting them to provide a report on the urgent measures put in place to prevent the escalation of further violence.

"Given the urgency of this matter, the commission strongly urges these offices to provide it with a response by no later than 12pm on Thursday," said SAHRC.

An attack under the guise of crime prevention, aimed at a particular vulnerable group, on the basis of their birth outside of South Africa is an infringement of the rights within our constitution, said the SAHRC.

"The commission once more appeals to community leaders to ensure due process is followed and that these communities address their concerns to the duly authorised authorities. "Further, the commission insists that the relevant authorities address and allay the concerns of the communities."

The commission said the planned march against foreign nationals today sends a divisive message to our society as a whole and has the potential to counter the ongoing efforts to build a socially cohesive and inclusive South Africa. Foreigners' houses were burnt in Johannesburg recently,

March against foreigners gets support

Sakhile Ndlazi

THERE is massive support for today's march in Pretoria against foreigners, with people from KwaZulu-Natal, Mpumalanga, the Northern Cape, the Western Cape and other areas urging organisers to go ahead with the protest.

Yesterday, organiser Makgoka Lekganyane said: "Support for the march is overwhelming and we're forging right ahead with it, come rain or sunshine."

Lekganyane said he had been inundated with calls from people in different provinces supporting the march.

"This problem of illegal immigrants is not exclusive to Pretoria. It's a countrywide problem and needs to be thoroughly addressed," said Lekganyane.

He said he was pleased with the attention the march was receiving.

"It's all systems go from 11am and we, Mamelodi Concerned Residents, are doing this for our people," he said.

Participants are expected to start convening at Marabast early this morning and to march to the Department of Home Affairs' head offices in the city centre at 11am.

Tshwane metro police spokesperson Senior Superintendent Isaac Mahamba advised people not to panic and appealed for calm.

He was referring to rumours that the march could, or would, turn violent.

"The department has deployed members accordingly. We are hoping for a peaceful march and that the organisers will follow the restrictions we have given them," Mahamba said.

Traffic would be affected from 10am from Struben Street, down to Thabo Sehume and Johannes Ramokhoase streets.

"We won't completely close down the streets, but instead move with the marchers as they pass," he said.

SAPS spokesperson Lieutenant-Colonel Lungelo Dlamini said they and other law enforcement agencies would increase deployments to deal with any situation, including threats of violence.

Fawu warns of jobs' bloodbath

Luyolo Mkntane

THE FOOD and Allied Workers Union (Fawu) has warned of a looming jobs' bloodbath in the country if a raft of proposed legislation is given the go-ahead by the government.

South Africa is battling an unemployment rate of 26.7% and the union warned that up to 8 000 jobs could be affected in the beverages industry and the sugar value-chain when the "ill-informed" sugar tax of 11% comes into effect on April 1.

A further 108 000 jobs could be on the line should the government approve a bill compelling tobacco companies to sell their products in plain packages.

The Fawu leadership, including its president Atwell Nazo, general secretary Katishi Masemola and his deputy Moleko Phakedi, warned against passing of the bill, saying it would give cigarette counterfeiters "a blank cheque, threatening thousands of farming, retail and manufacturing jobs".

The Fawu leaders said the liquor amendment bill, which seeks to raise the age limit for legal drinking from 18 to 21, would have a "similar adverse effect on jobs".

The union leaders were speaking at a media briefing in Johannesburg yesterday, ahead of Fawu's special extended meeting of its national executive committee in Boksburg from Monday to Wednesday.

Fawu also hit out at the 1 500 jobs already lost in the volatile poultry sector because of "dumping" of cheap poultry imports from the EU into the local economy.

Phakedi said the looming jobs' bloodbath was an "urgent crisis that requires government attention to ensure no more jobs are lost. Instead, we are faced with inadequate public consultation and half-hearted engagement by a government that is clearly not listening".

The union would continue with rolling mass protests until the government listened "as they did with poultry dumping", he said.

Last month, poultry producer RCL Foods sold 15 of its 25 poultry farms to mitigate the negative impact caused by "dumping". This spurred ANC secretary-general Gwede Mantashe to call on the government to buy the poultry farms being closed down as a going concern to save jobs.

Masemola warned: "By June, if there is no radical package of intervention to save this industry by essentially blocking the cheap chicken coming from the EU, these (poultry) companies will shrink."

If jobs continued to be lost in the sector, "we are going to have a problem of food security because we can't rely on foreign sources of food security".

Nazo said the 39c fuel levy announced would also contribute to job losses.

Joburg mayor to charge protesters

Siphelele Dlodla

JOHANNESBURG: Mayor Herman Mashaba says he will lay criminal charges against the hundreds of people who disrupted a council meeting and destroyed City property.

This comes after at least 300 people, alleged to be members of the Johannesburg Social Movement (JSM), stormed yesterday's council session in Braamfontein where Mashaba was scheduled to table the City's 2016/17 Medium-Term Revenue and Expenditure Framework for adoption.

The JSM protesters were marching on the Joburg council to express displeasure at the cancellation by Mashaba of the Jozi@Work programmes.

The protesters, wearing yellow overalls and jackets, stormed the council chamber, allegedly threatening the lives of councillors and City employees while trashing furniture and smashing glass doors. Police had to use stun grenades to disperse them.

Mashaba said yesterday that this was a blatant attempt to prevent the council from passing the adjustment budget and bringing change to the residents of the city.

"I condemn the violence that has broken out at the Johannesburg council in the strongest terms; it has no place in our democracy," he said.

"Those responsible for the violence and damage to City property must be held accountable and I will be laying criminal charges at the Joburg Central Police Station (this) morning. We will not be deterred. The people's business will be done."

Mashaba blamed the ANC for the disruption, saying the march had been led by an organisation set up by ANC members to discredit the new administration.

The ANC lost control of the Joburg metro to the DA-led coalition arrangement after the August 3 local government elections.

Mashaba said: "The ANC caucus left council to address their members then led them into the council building where the havoc broke out."

"This violence is about preventing us from tabling our adjustment budget." He said the council would continue whether it took all day and night.

DA Johannesburg regional chairperson Khume Ramulifho called the disruption of the council "nothing less than undemocratic thuggery."

ANC Joburg regional spokesperson Jolidee Matonga condemned the violent destruction of property, saying that all hell had broken loose when Mashaba refused to receive the memorandum from Jozi@Work employees. - ANA

Youth 'enticed by alcohol advertising'

Ilanit Chernick

YOUNG people have said that alcohol advertisements entice them to drink, further affirming a proposed ban on alcohol advertising.

Research released by the Soul City Institute for Social Justice this week indicated that young people's views on alcohol advertising, marketing and availability had a direct influence on their drinking patterns and sexual behaviour.

The multicountry study, which also includes India and Tanzania, was conducted by Soul City's Lebohlang Letsela as part of the Strive research consortium which aims to tackle structural drivers of HIV.

Letsela conducted research at a rural village in Mpumalanga and an urban township using the PhotoVoice method in which young people were encouraged to capture their experiences through photos and captions, and holding focus group discussions.

She said young people often visited bars and taverns even when they had no money and had to rely on their peers to purchase alcohol for them, and that they used occasions such as "Phuza Thursdays" to booze it up.

"Promotional activities such as hosting celebrity events, competitions and discounts that include 'happy hour', 'ladies' night' and 'buy one get one free' also increase the likelihood that young people will go to drinking outlets," she said in her study.

The research also showed that, on average, many alcohol outlets surrounded any given school.

In an urban area, for instance, it was found that there are 147 outlets versus 36 schools, while in rural areas 11 schools were surrounded by 28 shebeens and taverns.

There was also a direct link in the role that advertising plays in gender as young males were of the notion that drinking a certain brand would lead to success, while young women said pink and flavoured drinks definitely targeted them.

Meanwhile, Professor Neo Morojele, the deputy director of the South African Medical Research Council's Alcohol,

Young people often visit bars and taverns even when they have no money

Tobacco and Other Drug Research Unit, presented his research conducted in Tshwane as part of the International Alcohol Control Study.

Morojele said all age groups had extremely high levels of exposure to alcohol advertisements, including on TV, at movies and on signs outside shops. Of concern, he said, were the high rates of exposure to advertisements to which adolescents were subjected, including those who did not consume alcohol, and those who were not currently consuming alcohol.

Five years ago the cabinet approved the gazette of a draft bill banning alcohol advertising. At the time, Social Development Minister Bath-abile Dlamini said the intention was to reduce exposure to the advertising and promotion of alcohol.

The bill has yet to be legislated.

"We want to lobby that this is made policy as soon as possible. This is how we will change perceptions in communities," Letsela said.

The Advertising Standards Authority of South Africa's dispute resolutions manager, Leon Grobler, said that while alcohol abuse at all levels was a multifaceted problem, the organisation could not comment on the study.

"Our purpose is not to assume the responsibility of the government (which has the prerogative to regulate this matter more severely), but rather to 'fill the gaps' between what legislation allows and where advertisers might potentially exploit consumers," Grobler said.

He said that once the laws were passed to ban alcohol advertising, the organisation would take appropriate measures to ensure there was compliance.

Pedestrian killed in bakkie crash

A woman, believed to be in her late 30s, was killed on Friday morning, February 17, when she was knocked over by a bakkie on the N7 opposite Dunoon.

According to ER24 spokesman Russel Meiring, ER24 paramedics, along with Life Healthcare, arrived on the scene to find the body of the woman lying in the left-hand lane of the road. The bakkie was parked a short distance away.

Mr Meiring said paramedics assessed the woman and found that she had sustained numerous injuries to her face and head.

"Unfortunately, nothing could be done for the woman and she was declared dead on the scene."

The driver of the bakkie escaped injury.

Table View police officers simply followed their noses to sniff out a Site 5 drug den last week. The officers were patrolling the neighbourhood on Friday night February 17 when they smelt dagga, according to Table View police spokeswoman Captain Adriana Chandler. They followed the scent trail to a nearby shack where they recognised one of the occupants, a nervous-looking man, as someone they had nabbed previously on a dagga possession charge. The officers found a plastic bag of mandrax tablets – some whole and some quartered in the man's shack. They also found a lot of dagga wrapped in newspaper as well as some in small plastic bags. The officers arrested the man. The 40 year-old suspect was due to appear in the Cape Town Magistrate's Court on Monday February 20. The illegal substances that were confiscated, sealed in exhibit bags.

Mugger freed, family fumes

ORIELLE BERRY

The Parklands mother of a teen, who was robbed of his cellphone by a knife-wielding man, feels justice is being denied to her son after the suspect was released two days after his arrest on Monday February 6.

The mother, who asked that neither she nor her family be named, said she was stunned police had let the suspected mugger go after her son positively identified him from a photograph officers showed him.

"My daughter went to the station and filled out a statement and was given a case number but then a week later she got a call from the Table View SAPS. When my daughter quizzed the SAPS staff member, she was told no reason was given as to why the suspect was released and told, 'only the prosecutor knows'."

The mother said her son was still traumatised after being mugged in broad daylight in Parklands Main Road, on his way home from school. "He is so affected that I don't want to discuss the incident in front of him while he could overhear it, as it could cause more trauma," she said.

The 15-year-old ("Teen identifies cellphone thief," Tabletalk, February 8) positively identified his knife-wielding attacker as the same man, wearing a hoodie and a glove on one hand, who had robbed another teen in a similar manner on the same day on Monday January 23 and was arrested.

In an email to Tabletalk the mother wrote: "This same person robbed another teenager on the same day he robbed my son. A few days later, he was caught at the bus stop carrying a pair of scissors with him. I have got a feeling that he waits for his victims-to-be at Parklands Main Road."

She told Tabletalk: "Police even confirmed to us that the guy is known to them, is from Dunoon, is a drug addict etc. I am really stunned as to how he can be released, as he seems to be a danger to the community, and yet is set free just like that."

Tabletalk sent two messages to Table

View police spokeswoman Captain Adriana Chandler. After the second email, she replied saying: "Due to the working hours of the detectives (tracing operations, court, morgue, etc) I am unable to reach the investigating officer for comment. Sincere apologies for this."

Tabletalk sent a third email requesting more details and also contacted National Prosecuting Authority spokesman Eric Ntabazalila.

He said: "Please note that we are busy dealing with your media query. We are trying to get hold of the investigating officer regarding the docket but unfortunately he is out on another case. We are trying to get someone else to bring us that docket and we will revert back to you as soon as we get it."

Later, he added: "Please note that police did not bring the docket to the prosecutor as requested. We will try again tomorrow (Tuesday February 21)."

At the time of going to press he had not yet responded as to whether he had received the docket.

Husband and wife nabbed for burglary

Acting on a tip-off, Table View police officers arrested a husband and wife for a burglary committed in Table View last November. According to Table View police spokeswoman Captain Adriana Chandler, the couple were nabbed at an address in Summer Greens on Thursday February 16, after camera footage tied them to the crime.

The pair were due to appear in the Cape Town Magistrate's Court on Monday February 20.

The primary purpose of the diesel fuel tanks is to provide a diversified and separate, additional source of diesel fuel during an extended loss of Alternating Current (AC) power following an emergency, to supply:

1. the emergency mobile diesel powered water pumps which will be used to provide reactor core cooling and nuclear spent fuel pool make-up; and
2. the Emergency Control Centre (ECC) diesel generator which will allow the ECC to perform its command and control function.

The storage strategy is to have one diesel tank permanently positioned at the Ekhasya site (Alternative 1 – Preferred Alternative) or at the Transport Garage (Alternative 2), and the second diesel tank located at the Bulk Stores, which is at the Portable Emergency Equipment Store site.

Applicant: Eskom Holdings SOC Limited

Environmental authorization is required in terms of NEMA for the following listed activities: Government Notice: R983 (Listing Notice 1): Activity 51: The expansion of facilities or infrastructure for the storage, or storage and handling of a dangerous good, where the capacity of such storage facilities will be expanded by more than 80 cubic metres. The procedures for a Basic Assessment Process are being followed.

Availability of the Basic Assessment Report (BAR): the Draft BAR will be available for public comment from Friday, 24 February 2017 – Monday, 27 March 2017 at the Koeberg Public Library (Merchant Walk, Duynfontein); Wesfleur Public Library (Arnold Centre, Bunting Crescent, Atlantis); Cape Town Central Library (Old Drill Hall, Corner of Parade and Darling Street, Cape Town); Koeberg Visitors Centre; and Doug Jeffery Environmental Consultants' office in Klapmuts. # Darling-krieketklub ontwikkel jonges

Vir jare het seuns en meisies in Darling niks gehad om te doen in die somermaande nie. Verskeie organisasies, waaronder Darling Outreach, het hulle oor die kinders ontferm en nou is Darling krieketklub, wat vanjaar 58 jaar oud is, ook besig om sy deel by te dra om kinders – veral jong seuns, van die pad te hou.

Die klub het verlede seisoen begin met mini-krieket en hierdie seisoen het hulle 'n ontwikkelingspan (ouderdom wissel van 15 tot 20 jaar) op die been gebring. Daar is tans drie spanne betrokke by die mini-krieket; o.10-span en twee o.12-spanne. "Ek wil ook net noem dat ons eerste span van die klub tans in die Boland eerste divisie-afdeling tans onoorwonne is, in die 50 beurt-kompetisie en ook deur is na die finaal van die pro20 kompetisie wat op 8 April by die Boland-stadion in Paarl plaasvind," verduidelik Shelton Adams, voorsitter van Darling-krieketklub. Adams vra dat enige iemand wat die klub se projekte wil borg hom kontak by 083 650 0707.

DIE VOORGESTELDE UITBREIDING VAN DIE DIESEL BERGINSFASILITEITE BY DIE KOEBERG KERNKRAGSTASIE, PLAAS DUYNFONTYN NR. 1552, MELKBOSSTRAND

Kennis word hiermee gegee van 'n publieke deelnameproses kragtens die Wet op Nasionale Omgewingsbestuur, 1998 (Wet 107 van 1998) ("NEMA"), soos gewysig, Omgewingsinvloedbepalingsregulasies, 2014.

Voorstel en ligging: die voorgestelde uitbreiding van die diesel bergingsfasiliteite by die Koeberg Kernkragsstasie (KKKS) deur die daarstelling van twee mobiele bogrondse dieseltanks, geleë op die plaas Duynfontyn Nr. 1552, Melkbosstrand. Die primêre doel van die dieseltanks is om 'n gediversifiseerde en afsonderlike, addisionele bron van diesel te wees tydens 'n langdurige verlies van wisselstroom elektrisiteit as gevolg van 'n eksterne gebeurtenis, om sodoende dieselbrandstof te kan voorsien aan:

- die mobiele dieselaangedrewe noodwaterpompe wat gebruik sal word om die reaktorkern en die tenk vir berging van gebruikte kernbrandstof te verkoel; en
- die kragopwekker wat Noodbeheersentrum (NBS) bedien sodat die NBS die nodige funksies kan verrig.

Die bergingstrategie behels die permanente plasing van een dieseltank óf by die Ekhaya-werf (Opsie 1) óf by die Vervoerbestuurmagasyn (Opsie 2), en 'n tweede dieseltank by die Massamagasyn, wat by die werf vir die berging van mobiele noodtoerusting geleë is.

Ingevolge "NEMA" word omgewingsmagtiging vir die volgende gespesifiseerde aktiwiteite vereis: Staatskennisgewing R983 (Gelyste Kennisgewing 1): Aktiwiteit 51: die uitbreiding van fasiliteite of infrastruktuur vir die berging, of berging en hantering van gevaarlike goedere, waar die kapasiteit van die industrie leiers bergingsfasiliteite sal uitgebrei word om meer as 80 kubieke meter. Die prosedure vir 'n Basiese Invloedbepaling-proses sal gevolg word.

Beskikbaarheid van die Konsep Basiese Invloedbepalingsverslag (BIV): die Konsep BIV sal vir kommentaar aan die publiek beskikbaar gestel word tot en met Maandag, 27 Maart 2017 by die volgende lokale: die Koeberg Openbare Biblioteek (Merchant Walk, Duynfontein), die Wesfleur Openbare Biblioteek (Arnold Sentrum, Bunting-singel, Atlantis), Kaapstad Sentrale Biblioteek (Ou Drilsaal op die hoek van Parade en Darlingstraat, Kaapstad), die Koeberg Besoekersentrum, en by die kantoor van Doug Jeffery Environmental Consultants in Klapmuts. # Uitblinker na Parys

ESMÉ ERASMUS

@erasmusmesme

'n Uitblinker-gegradueerde van Durbanville se jong be-markingsloopbaan het vlerke gekry toe sy 'n internskap by die Chanel-modehuis in Parys in Frankryk losgeslaan het.

Lorraine van den Berg (23) van Eversdal het Sondag na Parys gevlieg vir 'n internskap van ses maande. Sy gaan in die operasionele be-markingsdepartement in produk-ontwikkeling werk – spesifiek in Frankryk, Duitsland en Italië.

Lorraine, wat in 2011 aan die Hoër Meisieskool La Rochelle in die Paarl gematrikuleer het, het eers 'n wegbreekjaar as au pair gedoen voor sy 'n B.Com-graad aan die Universiteit Stellenbosch behaal het. Verlede jaar het sy 'n honneurs-grad in be-marking met cum laude behaal.

Maar dis juis haar wegbreekjaar as au pair wat nuwe deure vir haar oopgemaak het. Die pa van die 11-ja-rige meisie wie sy na skool in Parys opgepas het, is toevallig 'n direkteur by Chanel.

Die gesin en haar ouers, die film-maker Cobus van den Berg en Gerdi van den Berg, 'n doktrale sielkun-dige, het oor-en-weer begin kuier en dit was juis met 'n besoek aan Suid-Afrika dat die pa haar oortuig het om aansoek om 'n internskap by Chanel te doen.

Ná twee Skype-onderhoude was die pos hare – die eerste nie-Europe-er wat dié eer te beurt val. Dit het ook in haar guns getel dat sy Frans magtig is. Buiten op skool het sy ook Frans aan 'n taalskool in Parys studeer in haar au pair-jaar. 'n Mens sou nou dink dat sy ten minste 'n he-le kleretas vol hoëhakskoene op sleeptou gaan neem vir dié modebe-wuste stad. Maar, hoewel sy mode-bewus is en baie in modes belang-stel, kom haar gemak eerste. “'n Mens kan steeds stylvol lyk sonder hoëhakskoene,” meen sy. Sy beskryf haar styl as modern-alterna-tief en stylvol, tog vroulik. “Ek moes wel heelwat nuwe klere aanskaaf – nie net oor dit Parys is nie, waar al-mal gesteld is op hul voorkoms, maar dis ook my eerste treë in die werkende wêreld.

“Ek het baie swart klere aange-skaaf, of klere in neutrale kleure, om in die korporatiewe omgewing en by die maatskappy se beeld in te pas,” vertel sy. Die kontrak is vir ses maande, waarna dit van die maat-skappy sal afhang of hulle haar kon-trak wil verleng of haar dalk 'n pos sal aanbied.

“Vir nou gaan ek vat wat ek kan kry daaruit en soveel moontlik pro-beer leer in die ses maande. Ek sien nogal uit na die hele nuwe wêreld wat ek gaan betree.

“Ek is opgewonde om te beleef hoe so 'n groot, globale maatskappy werk en dit regkry om in sy posisie te wees. Dis 'n wonderlike geleentheid. Ek sien ook uit daarna om nu-we mense te ontmoet. 'n Mens moet redelike vaste Christelike en more-le beginsels hê om daar te oorleef, en ek glo ek sal steeds my waardes daarheen kan neem en uitleef.” Sy is darem nie vingeralleen nie en het buiten haar au pair-gesin ook 'n Duitse vriendin wat naby haar in Parys gaan bly. “My ouers is baie ondersteunend; ek is baie bevoorreg om dit te hê.” Sy beplan om oor na-weke rond te toer en Europa te ver-ken. Haar plan is ook nie om haar daar in die verre te vestig nie.

Daar is natuurlik ook 'n ander trekpleister in die Kaap – haar vriend, Johan Hattingh, wat reeds 'n vliegkaartjie Parys toe bespreek het om vir haar te gaan kuier.

Lorraine van den Berg het Sondag na Parys, Frankryk gevlieg.

Pieter-Dirk echoes noise

Master storyteller Pieter-Dirk Uys will take to the stage for his one-man memoir at Die Boer theatre restaurant in Durbanville on 15 March.

He presented the world premiere of his new memoir The Echo of a Noise at the National Arts Festival in 2015. Having performed alone on the stages of the world for well over seven thousand times, he has learned that every show is the first and the last performance – because each audience demands and gets a different energy, topicality and excitement.

Pieter-Dirk Uys doesn't glance back at the successes and failures that strengthened his belief in a constant improvement of his work, but at those small signposts that throughout his life subconsciously have pointed him in a right and original direction – from his father Hannes Uys, his mother Helga Bassel, his grandmothers, his teachers, his passions, Sophia Loren, censorship, false eyelashes and making a noise when everyone demanded silence. In The Echo of a Noise, South Africa's foremost satirist sits on a barstool, opens his heart and talks about his private and public life leading the audience into his inner sanctuary with stories that can evoke surprise, laughter and tears.

► The show starts at 20:30 and tickets are R150 each. Call 021 979 1911 or visit www.dieboer.com to book.
